In this camp, 50 NSS Volunteers participated to sensitize students to social issues, such as health and hygiene, environment, cultural identity, education, women safety, and child labor. On the first day of this NSS camp, the NSS volunteers invited the villagers to their camp and trained them about the importance of maintaining greenery, freshness of breath and spread awareness about the use of plastics, their disposal after use and their harmful effect, including environmental impact. On the second day, the NSS volunteers reached every door step of the village to spread awareness about the declining Sex ratio due to aversion for the girl child. On the third day of the NSS camp, “shramadan activities”, such as cleaning of the main streets of the village, drainage cleaning and awareness about avoiding open defecation was taken up. On the fourth day of the NSS camp, an awareness program regarding environmental pollution and its prevention was organized. On 5th fifth day, special attention was given to human values, ethics and motivating the villagers to “live for the nation and die for the nation”. In fact, opportunities were provided to the people belonging to the village to actively participate in these activities. On the sixth day, “tobacco free drive” and “the importance of blood donation drive” were organized. On the seventh and final day of the NSS camp, an awareness programme about governments schemes, such as pradhan mantri awas yojana, krishi arranya prosthaha yojana, and shramashakti loan scheme among many others was taken up.
